Suffrage Vote in Senate Postponed

HASTE IS OPPOSED BY SOUTH MEN

EFFORTS TO EXPEDITE MEASURE DEFEATED BY TACTICS

ACTION TO COME UP TOMORROW

Alabama Spokesman Says Subject of Such Importance Should Be Taken Orderly.

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.] Washington, May 25.—Efforts to expedite a vote in the senate today on the woman suffrage constitutional amendments were defeated. By parliamentary tactics opponents of the measure succeeded after two hours in postponing all action until tomorrow.

After numerous roll calls and other obstruction, the motion to discharge the suffrage committee from considering the resolution, which was passed by the house last week, was set aside under the rules at 2 o'clock for renewal of debate on the resolution of Senator Johnson, republican of California, requesting a copy of the peace treaty with Germany.

Southerners Oppose Haste

Southern democrats, who opposed speedy action, Senator Underwood of Alabama, said the senate should act in an orderly manner on a subject of such importance. A motion to table the motion of Senator Jones was defeated previously, and Smith, democrat of Georgia, resorted to parliamentary tactics to permit further debate. Leaders of many women's organizations were in the chamber to lobby the motion. A vote on motion was preceded by a parliamentary tangle during which Vice President Marshall, decided all questions in favor of the suffrage supporters.

ADVERTISING MOST POWERFUL FACTOR IN BUSINESS--REED

Characterizing advertising as "one of the most powerful factors in business today," C. O. Reed, advertising manager of the Samson Tractor company, gave a most interesting talk before 40 members of the Chamber of Commerce gathered at luncheon at the Myers hotel at noon today. He outlined his views on advertising, dwelling briefly but clearly on each of the salient points and emphasizing reference to national and sectional advertising.

"Advertising is the fine fabric that runs throughout the business world, supporting and stabilizing industry," said Mr. Reed. "Everything we use or wear comes from the factory, and in the product we are buried, is an advertisement which we are advertising with."

Should advertising be withdrawn today, it would be one of the greatest calamities that could befall the country. The state of the country could not be maintained; there would be fewer magazines; and we would to pay $500 to $300 for a newspaper subscription. It is indeed hard to conceive of the state the country would be in were advertising withdrawn from business.

Reduces Overhead

"It is indispensable in industry. It reduces overhead expenses--this has been proved, and it is of value to every man, woman and child. Those who look upon advertising as a necessary evil and advertise merely because the other fellow does are wrong. They fail to recognize the great results obtainable when they look upon it as an investment not as an evil, and study its results. I hope that we can make our children understand the tremendous economic force of advertising."

Advertising tells us the most accurate and reliable methods were used at times but it has been elevated to a subconception stage to one of higher professions.

Local advertising there are a number of points to discuss, the most important of which are vision, analysis and how to proceed in doing it.

"In running an advertising campaign it is well to keep the public. Each ad should be an integral part of the campaign to put across a particular thing."

Frequency of advertising is important. It is the constant plugging that brings the results. The first four advertisements may fail to show big results, but the fifth or sixth one is bound to make you realize that you are running a campaign--that is when you will get the results and will want to make an impression.

"In regard to space, some advertisers secure better results by using larger space at longer intervals than they do by using small space often. This is a question the advertiser must decide for himself."

Miss Martha B. Riley, state board of health representative, gave a short talk urging members to take an active part in the health crusade.

Next Luncheon in September

An amusing story concerning the girl at Versailles recently leaked out. Two of the delegates approached a cigar stand between meetings and while purchasing cigars noticed a German holder on the counter. It was a "bong" model of a pipe, with a German helmet on it. The features were made to represent the Kaiser. One of the delegates picked it up to examine it closely. Then he set it down and placed a paper over it to hide it from view.

JOY REGNS AT HOME OF HAWKER

WIFE OF BRITISH FLYER FOUND AT SEA, IS CONGRATULATED.

PLANE GOT 800 MILES OFF IRELAND

Sunday Was Lucky Day; Be-flagged Dwelling Is Busy Place.

[By Associated Press.] London, May 26.—There was a merry party in the home of Harry G. Hawker, near Surliton last night, many callers, including Thomas O. M. Hopwith, head of the Sopwith aviation company, builders of the machine in which Hawker attempted to cross the Atlantic, going to the house to congratulate Mrs. Hawker. Many airmen were among those who called.

Missing for six days and virtually given up for lost, Harry G. Hawker, and his navigator, Lieut. Commander Mackenzie Grieve, British airmen, who essayed a flight across the Atlantic, without protection against disaster, save what their frail airplane afforded, were safe Sunday night aboard a British warship off the Orkneys.

Today they will reach the mainland and proceed to London, where they will be acclaimed as men returned to life.

Get 800 Miles From Ireland

Sopwith's plane left from Newfoundland, and 800 miles from the coast, Monday, May 19, the aviators, making the best of an engine, which was failing to function properly, were forced to alight on the water.

The little Danish steamer, Mary, bound from New Orleans and Norfolk for Aarhus, Denmark, picked the warfarers up, and continued on her way.

Mrs. Hawker never lost confidence that her husband would be rescued. Even Saturday evening she was still hopeful, desiring that Sunday was her lucky day and said: "We shall have good news tomorrow." Today her home was inundated with telegrams of congratulation and the telephone in the daily bedfagged dwelling was constantly ringing.

King George Expresses Sympathy

In a message expressing his own and the queen's sympathy and condolence, King George, Saturday, expressed his fear that Hawker had lost his life. He added: "I feel that the nation has lost one of its most able and daring pilots and that he sacrificed his life for the fame and honor of British flying."

An official statement confirming news dispatches of the rescue of Hawker and Lieut. Commander Mackenzie Grieve was issued tonight. It said:

"Harry G. Hawker and Lieut. Commander Grieve were rescued in latitude 50 degrees and 50 minutes north and longitude 69 degrees 30 minutes west. They alighted close to a steamer owing to a defect in the water circulation of their motor. Both men are in perfect health. The airplane was not saved."

Famo Does Stop Seborrhea
The Dandruff Disease

If you have dandruff, you have Seborrhea. If you have Seborrhea, you will have falling hair and itching scalp and, finally—if the seborrhea reaches the sebaceous glands—baldness. If you use Famo you can kill the bacilli that cause the Seborrhea. If it is falling out your hair is fighting for its life.

Seborrhea Kills Hair
As fast as nature grows new hair the Seborrhea germ kills it off.

Unless you kill the germ with Famo, the new hair will grow weaker and weaker, and finally fall altogether. Seborrhea attacks the hair like Pyorrhea attacks the teeth.

Famo is a formula worked out by one of the great pharmaceutical houses in Detroit.

These great laboratories supply ninety per cent of all the physicians and pharmacists in America.

In one of them, after three years' work, skilled chemists found Famo. Scientists now know that Seborrhea causes falling hair, and finally baldness. These Detroit chemists say that Famo kills Seborrhea. They say it will not only save hair, but grow it—beautiful, luxuriant hair. In Famo these chemists have combined ingredients they have supplied thousands of times to physicians.

Famo Revolutionary

Never before was this wonder-working formula applied to the growth of the hair.

Famo is revolutionary, and works revolutionary results.

Not a drop of alcohol is used in its preparation—an unheard-of thing. Famo chemists said, "Alcohol burns the hair and hastens grayness. We will find other ways to hold it together."

They succeeded.

Famo Stops Itching
Famo gives to the hair new lustre and intensifies the natural color of the hair. You will note beneficial results from the first application.

The dandruff scale is dissolved and disappears. Famo penetrates the scalp and gives health to the roots of the hair. It stops all itching of the scalp. It retards grayness.

Every member of the family should use it. Even if you do not have dandruff, Famo will make the hair more healthy and beautiful.

Famo is sold at all toilet goods counters. Applications may be had at the better barber shops.

It comes in two sizes—a small size at 35 cents and an extra large bottle at $1.00. Your money will be returned if you are not satisfied.

Seborrhea is the medical name for a morbidly increased flow from the sebaceous glands of the scalp. The seborrhea secretion forms in scales or dandruff.

READ THE TREATY.

No sound reason has yet been advanced why the United States senate should waive its constitutional right and ratify the Versailles peace treaty without so much as seeing it in full text. The country can only be amazed that it has been asked to do so.

As a matter of fact it is a vital importance that the peace treaty in its entirety be placed in the hands not only of the senate, but of the people of the United States before the matter of ratification is taken up. The treaty of Versailles will affect, for good or evil, the destinies of the whole world for generations to come. Too much light cannot be thrown upon it now.

And our government should not be in too great a hurry to ratify. If we sign in haste we may repent at leisure.

Even the most ardent friends of President Wilson do not contend that he is infallible. He believes that the peace treaty should be accepted without amendment. But this treaty is too important a document to be accepted on the recommendation of any one man or set of men. President Wilson did not wage the war alone. President Wilson and the senate did not wage the war alone. It was a people's war. Let it be a people's peace. Let the American people see this treaty in its entirety. Let them have ample opportunity for discussion. And if they believe, after mature deliberation, that the treaty ought to be amended, let it be amended.

How do we know that the abstract of the treaty, which we have been graciously permitted to read, is an accurate and correct statement of what there are jokers in the document itself which have been inadvertently omitted from the abstract?

Some dissatisfaction over the treaty, as it has been revealed in the abstract, has been expressed. There seems to be evidence that the imperialists of Europe have got some provisions into the treaty that ought to be eliminated. We do not care to play the imperialists' game.

There may be chaffing in some allied lands if we decide to read the treaty over and discuss it before signing it. If this be so, be it. The most we are getting out of this war is a clear conscience. But if we sign with our eyes shut our conscience may trouble us later.

Incidentally, what has become of the slogan, "open covenants openly arrived at"? It's a good slogan. Why abandon it?

NOLAN WINS VICTORY.

Assemblyman T. S. Nolan won a victory in the assembly, Friday, when his bill to create a state board of conciliation was ordered to engrossment by a vote of 44 to 23. The bill carried out Governor Philipp's recommendations and wiped out the socialist measure concerning the same subject.

The Nolan bill makes no provision for compulsory settlement between employers and employees. It creates a board of conciliation of three members, to be appointed by the governor with the consent of the senate.

While this board may not enforce its findings in any labor controversy, it is empowered to investigate wage differences between an employer and more than 25 employees, and after such investigation, to make public a report as to what in the opinion of the board "is a fair, equitable and just wage under all the circumstances and conditions surrounding such employer and employees."

With the creation of such a board with powers to lay the matter open, it is the contention of the author of the measure and its supporters that public opinion will do the rest.

Because the American public has proven itself to be a just judge, it is reasonable to suppose that the best results will obtain for both sides of a wage dispute. By leaving the matter indirectly up to public opinion the bill goes a step farther than the socialist measure which provided for half of the board to be appointed by the industrial commission from a list presented by the state federation of labor, and had from a state organization of manufacturers. The socialist made their plan that under such an arrangement the confidence of all parties would be secured.

GOOD HEALTH WEEK.

This is health week and particular observance will be carried out in the public schools. Discussions of health problems will be made and literature on that topic will be used as reading lessons and then sent into the homes through the children. Civic units have entered into the campaign and the program as planned should do great good in impressing upon the school children and their parents the necessity for safeguarding that greatest of all possessions—health.

It is the duty of every man and woman in Janesville to give encouragement to this campaign. Not only will each be better for it, but the entire community will feel the effects of clean living.

THE SERIOUS SIDE.

Few take seriously the attempts of some of the more radical opponents of tobacco, to prohibit its use. Some of the more venturesome have started leagues and other organizations to eventually prevent the use of that narcotic, but they will not get far. However, there is an angle of the proposal from which has grown much interest and from which great results can be obtained if developed. That is in educating the boys and girls to refrain from the use of tobacco, at least until they have grown to manhood and womanhood.

There is no question in the minds of a majority of the people that tobacco is injurious to the young. It has been proven by experts who have made a deep study of the matter that most of the boys and girls who use tobacco are not as well developed mentally or physically as those who do not. Any campaign which will be waged to impress upon school children the necessity of developing their faculties to the utmost is good and should be given encouragement.

The press agent's job must be improving, judging from the number of letters being received daily by the editors of newspapers. Alleged news stories on almost every subject come in every mail. We opened 49 letters this morning; the accumulation over Sunday. Out of the lot not more than two or three were available for use. Most of them came from government departments and while the subjects might be of interest they were either so lengthy or so poorly written that they could not be used. The average editor nowadays has little time to whip long-winded articles into shape. A lot of money and time could be saved if some of these could be shut off.

The world rejoices with Mrs. Harry Hawker that her intrepid husband is safe. It takes a great deal of courage for a man to stake the happiness of his wife and baby on a gamble with death in order to aid progress.

After the discouraging weather we have had for the last few weeks, many a farmer and city man went to work with a cheery whistle. Three days of fair weather without a break is a record.

We have heard a number of fish stories in the last few days but we have not heard of anyone suffering from bones stuck in the throat.

A POEM WE'LL HAVE TO FORGET.

The old oaken bucket that hangs in the well,
May look pretty well to a poet;
But if I write about it my verse won't sell.
That subject is dead, and you know it.

So I'll chant the praise till the end of my days
Of a rusty old bucket of tin;
The one that I steer to the corner each night,
The bucket there's no water in.

The old oaken bucket still hangs in the well,
'Neath shade trees where robins once sang;
But down in the city I sing this refrain,
'Let it hang let it hang, LET IT HANG!'

FISHING CURE.

Seemed like I couldn't stand it any more.
The factory whistles blowin' day by day,
An' men and children hurryin' by the door,
An' steel cars clangin' on their busy way.
The faces of the people seemed to be Washed pale by tears o' grief an' strife an' care
Till everywhere I turned to I could see
The same old gloomy pictures of despair.

The windows of the shops all looked the same.
Decked out with stuff their owners wished to sell;
When visitors across our doorway came.
I could recite the tales they'd have to tell.
All things had lost their old time power to please.
Dog-tired I was and irritable, too,
An' so I traded chimney tops for trees,
An' shingled roof for open skies of blue.

I dropped my tools an' took my rod an' line
An' tackle box an' left the busy town;
I found the favorite restin' spot of mine
Where no one seeks for fortune or renown.
I whistled to the birds that flew about,
An' built a lot of castles in my dreams;
I washed away the stains of care an' doubt,
An' thanked the Lord for woods an' running streams.

I've cooked my meals before an open fire,
I've had the joy of green smoke in my eyes,
I've followed for a time my heart's desire
An' now the path to duty I retrace.
I've had my little fishing trip, and go
Once more contented to the haunts of men;
I'm ready now to hear the whistles blow
An' see the roofs an' chimney tops again.

BAPTISTS TO MEET IN BUFFALO NEXT YEAR

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.]

Denver, Colo., May 26.—Buffalo, N. Y., today was unanimously selected by the Northern Baptist convention as the meeting place for the 1920 convention of the church.

The report of the nominating committee, election committee and the selecting of the next meeting place were the principal matters to come before the northern Baptist convention in its session today.

The election of officers, it was predicted, would follow whatever recommendations are made by the committee.

Denver, Colo., May 26.—The northern Baptist convention today voted to join the proposed inter-church world movement for a joint campaign of financial support for all American evangelical denominations. Resolutions were adopted providing that the movement should not attempt organic church union and that Baptist traditions and independence should be safeguarded.

Gift of $2,000,000 to northern Baptist convention by John D. Rockefeller contingent upon completion of the $6,000,000 fund now being raised, was announced to the convention by F. W. Ayer of Philadelphia, president.

One half of the sum is to go to the foreign missionary society of Boston, the other half to go to the home mission society at New York. Five million, five hundred thousand dollars already has been subscribed to the $10,000,000 fund. Mr. Rockefeller previously had contributed $750,000 to the fund.

Snow and Heat Delay Train Within 2 Weeks

Liberal Kan., May 26.—From a snowdrift delaying trains to heat buckling the rails in a matter of two weeks is some record. Nevertheless the Rock Island railroad claims it. Rock Island No. 12 was delayed at Hooker, Okla., several hours early in April because of a deep snowdrift which filled a cut. Next day after Easter the same train was delayed two hours at Hooker because the heat caused the rails to buckle.

This Judge Marries 'Em Going and Coming

[BY INTERNATIONAL NEWS.]

Junction City, Kan., May 26.—Probate Judge Daniel Hurley, the "marrying judge" of Geary county, is getting the soldiers both coming and going. Up to the time the armistice was signed last November the judge was marrying the soldiers of Camp Funston at a fast clip.

Now, with the return of thousands of Kansas boys, not to mention the Missouri, Oklahoma, Nebraska and other boys sent here to be discharged, "business is picking up," he reports. Many of the boys became engaged by "long distance," by mail, and the girls are hurrying here to have the ceremony performed when the boys get back.

The judge declares that those that didn't get married before they went "overseas" he is getting as soon as they come back.

FOOTVILLE AUTOISTS BACK FROM FLORIDA

Mr. and Mrs. K. J. Bemis and Miss Margaret Bemis, Footville, and Mr. and Mrs. James Metts, Port Orange, Fla., reached Janesville this morning on their way to Footville via automobile from their winter home in Port Orange.

A mild covered car was evidence of the rainy weather and bad roads encountered most of the way on the 13 day trip.

"The first dust we saw," said Mr. Bemis, "was after we reached Chicago."

Mule teams were brought into play three times during the trip to pull them out of the mud.

Mr. Bemis relates that Rock county has voted to lay concrete roads. He reports that the southern states all have roughly availed to the need of good roads and says every county in Kentucky and Tennessee has voted bonds for roads to be used with the government money. The durability of concrete over asphalt is emphasized by the seasoned autoist, who has been traveling to Florida by motor for the last four years.

Agacile farmers, he says, are busy harvesting wheat crops. Wheat fields in all stages of growth were witnessed on the trip north and according to Mr. Bemis, the country will have a large crop many fields formerly given over to cotton now being planted in wheat.

Whitewater News

Whitewater, May 26.—The class in agriculture, accompanied by Mrs. I. U. Oliver, Mrs. C. Collins, and Missable Damuth, visited some of the farms of Walworth county, Friday, through the kindness of County Agent, Mr. C. J. Taylor, and Mr. C. J. Taylor, who owned by John Schell, Chicago, Walworth, owned by Mr. Dickinson, and Downer Hall, owned by Mr. Countess, all at Lake Geneva.

From Lake Geneva the class went to the Tilden farm, near Delavan, where they were especially interested in the herd of improved Guernseys. In the evening, permission was obtained to visit Yerkes observatory, and although the cloudiness of the evening prevented a look through the telescope the many things about the observatory that could be seen, fully repaid the visit.

Persons. Kenneth Saeve has arrived in New York from overseas, is spending the week end with his sister, Miss Bella Moss.

The Whitewater high school boys played the team at Walworth Friday afternoon and were defeated 14 to 7. The juniors of the high school entertained the seniors at Morris Pratt Institute, Saturday evening.

SOLDIERS OF CIVIL AND WORLD WARS HONORED SUNDAY

Special memorial services appropriate to the day were held in several of the churches yesterday with large audiences in attendance. At the United Brethren church the auditorium was decorated with flags and flowers and the members of the local camp of the G. A. R., and the Women's Relief corps were the guests of honor.

The former were commanded by J. J. Schettie and the latter by the president, Mrs. Hattie Marsden. They marched in with their colors and were seated in the main body of the church. The pastor, Rev. J. Hart, presided at the service, which was a religious and patriotic one. He read the text: "Their works do follow them." He likened the world to a stage and the people to players who did their little part and made their exit. The new soldiers of the good or ill of the whole and if his part had been good it was utilized, if bad it must be overcome and counteracted by the good of the whole.

He mentioned the custom of the Romans to place busts of their ancestors in their dwellings as a perpetual reminder of their civic duties. He said that memorial day was for much the same purpose, to pay tribute to heroism and sacrifice in the past and get encouragement for the future.

He paid a special tribute to the men of the G. A. R. and to the loyal and devoted women of the W. R. C. who had stood with them side by side. He attributed part of the courage and strength of the young manhood of the present war to the fact that they had been true to their traditions, which had come to them from the veterans of the Civil war as the testing time of democracy quoting the words of Lincoln "that the government must be based on the will of the people." He said that at that time the United States was conducting an experiment of the race, in the kind of government which could endure, and its triumph showed the dominance of the civil rights of kings. He emphasized the thought that in response to the words "the ways of the ungodly shall perish" that omnipotent God is always on the side of the right.

He defined traits of patriotism as being first of all unselfish; second, willing to make sacrifices of self for the good of the whole; third, intense loyalty to nature, doing the utmost day to day to help the work along; fourth, essentially Christian in character; fifth, true patriotism should be world wide.

"The hymn of the Republic" was sung by the Junior children of the Sunday school. Edward Ward sang as a solo number "When They Have the Grand Revue" which was a patriotic chorus also helped with the singing which closed the services with "America."

At the Cargill Methodist church the morning service was one of memorial prayer with Sgt. James Calverly as the speaker. Sergeant Calverly has been stationed at Camp McArthur, Waco, Texas, during the past year, much of the time in hospital service. He is a native of Rock county and speaks with tenderness and sympathy of the soldiers and knowledge of war time conditions. He took as his text "There are Ministering Angels All About."

Soldier Gives Talk. He brought out the points that there were ministering spirits all about the soldier, helping them in their physical exertions they were called on to make. When it seemed almost impossible to go on, strength was given to them to do what they were called upon to do. "When George Blyman was in prison and ready to give up his efforts a voice called on him to persevere and he had strength to go on. Often things came about that way," he said "when overcome by doubt and discouragement, a voice seemed to tell one to keep on. Another point was the marvelous way in which the boys were upheld at the point of death. There seemed," he said "to be a mysterious quality of spirit which carried them easily and safely along so that their suffering and faint heartedness ceased."

He recalled the memory of the soldiers of '61 whose helpful influence was such an inspiration to the boys of the present generation, and reference was also made to Richard Ellis whose gold star shines in the service flag of the church.

An anthem was sung by the women's chorus, directed by Miss Clara Shawman. Spring flowers were used in decoration.

Churches Join in Service. At the Federated church memorial service was held in the evening in memory of the soldiers from Rock county. The service was held in the church, which had lost their lives in service. It was in the form of a candle light service, with a large cross of white flowers as the center of the service. Baskets and jars of spring flowers were used in profusion about the platform and the whole was lit by groups of softly burning candles placed in candelsticks. A strong light from the picture machine brought out the cross and flags in bright relief.

A fitting singing was the order by the singing of "Sweet Hour of Prayer," and "Rock of Ages" by the congregation sitting in the dim light of the church. The poem of "Ten Thousand Names" was sung by a quartette added much to the solemnity of the occasion. The members of the quartette were J. S. Taylor and A. Schoof, and the Misses J. McCulloch and I. Lewis.

tribute to those men who laid down their lives in the service of their country was given by Rev. J. A. Melrose who said of them "Their lives are the seed of the most significant page of history. The passion of high idealism caught them and they saw afar the gleam of high endeavor which it was their purpose to attain."

In speaking of the great conflict in which these boys had been engaged he said that it was a struggle of ideals and not a test of arms, and that America occupied a unique place in history in that she symbolized the ideal of freedom and democracy on the one hand and as opposed to Germany with the ideal of mobilized force on the other.

The soldiers whose names were immortalized by the gold star were as follows: Congregational church, J. S. Taylor and Irvin Hermann; Presbyterian, Nelson Horn; Baptist, William Bumgarner.
